Did you know?

We have met the Thomas Sill Challenge

With the generosity of all who have participated, the Boissevain Morton Foundation has raised over $50,000 since March 2015 and will now receive a donation of $25,000 from the Thomas Sill Foundation.

Wonderful surprise

The late Jacob D. Dyck has left a bequest of $119,000 to the Boissevain Morton Foundation, adding to the $150,000 bequest received last year. This now brings the total of the bequest in memory of Jacob D. Dyck to $269,000.

We now have a composting bin

This summer the Foundation built a composting site near the recycling depot for leaves and grass. The public has free access to the wood chip bin that can be used for garden landscaping. Please note only leaves and grass can be deposited. Trees and other waste must be taken to the local landfill.

Over $1 million given back to our community

Since the start of the local foundation 40 years ago, $1,167,717 has been given back to our community in grants. Each year, as we grow, the more we give back. This year we are excited to give out over $90,000 in grants. Join us for a celebration of these and many other exciting accomplishments on Thursday, November 19 at 7:00 pm at the Sawmill.
